Subject: Public records request

Debbie –

Here are just a few of my thoughts on this............

The LPD would have purchase orders, grant information, payment vouchers and bill submissions that would likely have potential information that they have requested. The cost of the production of these documents will exceed the $10 limit set under the Massachusetts Public Records Law. The LPD will be citing the following exemptions in the production of the requested documents:

1. Exemption A - Statutory exemption
2. Exemption F – Investigatory Exemption
3. Exemption N – Disclosures likely to jeopardize public safety
4. Exemption O – Personal information of employees
5. 201 CMR 17.00 (all inclusive) and regulatory authority M.G.L Chapter 93H

This is a very broad request and I think asking for clarification would help us out. Are they looking for purchase orders, payment vouchers from each individual department, and detail billing on the LPD’s end.

I would also bring to everyone’s attention that ACH transfer information may be restricted by the law and exemption “A & O”. I personally do not believe that the Public Records Law was established so that the voucher for a payment reimbursement to an employee would permit their banking information (ACH) to be provided to a third party entity. I would also be cautious in sending out vendor ACH information.

My preliminary estimate is that it will take the LPD approximately 5 hours to locate, copy, redact and refile the above referenced material. The cost is estimated to be 5 hours at $18.00 per hour and not more than 150 pages @.05 each = $97.50 (approximately for the LPD).
While the requestor has asked for vendor/payee payments including a long list of information the LPD will provide the documents as they stand in their present form. The Massachusetts Public Records law does not require that we create a records to meet their request.

While the requestor has asked that the records be e-mailed or mailed in electronic format the LPD maintains these records in paper format. We will gladly mail them the paper copies via USPS.

This might be a good one to send to town counsel. Based upon what counsel says I may need to adjust my estimate.

The LPD does not waive any fees to produce public records except for those exemptions that are statutorily established. To do so for one entity opens the door for others to request the same and if denied it may give them cause to claim that fees were assessed on an arbitrary and capricious basis.

These are just my thoughts.

Jim Hurley
